

Dear AFTH:

Going through the adoption process was like learning about a whole new world, a world that allowed us to grow our family and finally become parents. From the moment we got the phone call that our son's birthmother had chosen us and that he was waiting for us at the hospital, we haven't been able to stop smiling about him. He is truly, truly a blessing. We love him so much, and we've seen how faith and hope produces miracles.

Thank you,

Angela and Pat
